Bus Wreck Victim Remains Hospitalized

By CHARLIE BRIGGS

A mother of two small children, who boarded a (Central Ohio Transit Authority) COTA bus minutes before it was struck by a van driven by a man fleeing the scene of a hit-skip accident, was listed in fair condition at Doctors' Hospital West Tuesday.

Mrs. Rosemary Chafin, 30, of 181 N. Guilford Ave., was one of seven COTA bus passengers injured June 15 when the bus she was riding downtown was struck shortly before 10 p.m. at the intersection of W. Broad and Central Ave. by the speeding van driver, Richard Ratcliff, 26. Ratcliff was pronounced dead on arrival at Mt. Carmel West Hospital about 10:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Chafin, the mother of two children ages 9 and 11, suffered multiple contusions on the right side of her body. "All my right side was pretty well smashed from my face on down to my feet," the crash victim said, adding, "I just hope I'm not messed up too bad to take care of my children."

Following the fatal crash, the injured bus passengers were taken to Grant Hospital for treatment, by members of Fire Squad #12.

From her hospital bed at Doctors' West this week, Mrs. Chafin voiced criticism of the medical treatment she received at Grant Hospital.

According to her story, she was x-rayed and then released. Family members realizing her condition to be serious attempted to get her admitted as a patient but were turned away, Mrs. Chafin said. Her family physician, Dr. Thomas Wanko, was called and ordered her to be admitted to Doctors' Hospital West, where he practices. She was admitted early Thurs-

Dems Fold To Pressure, Name Two Black Deputy Registrars

By JOHN B. COMBS

Even though it tends to reflect the age-old cliche of "last hired," two blacks are in line to become Deputy Registrars of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, The CALL & POST has learned. Myrna Beatty, mother of State Rep. Otto Beatty Jr., and Kathy Espy, wife of Columbus City Councilman Ben Espy, have been nominated for registrar agency operators, it was confirmed this week.

Mrs Beatty, long active in Democratic politics, and Mrs. Espy, a house wife, are the 14th and 15th nominees for auto-licensing agencies in Franklin County.

Otto Jr., in confirming the nomination, said his mother's agency will be located in his campaign headquarters, 1080 E. Broad St.

Espy, like Beatty Jr., is an attorney. The Espy agency will serve the Dublin-Worthington area, Espy said. However, he said the exact location is unknown at this time.

The Beatty-Espy nominations were obviously designed to cool the anger of several black Democrats who had accused Democratic County Chairman John Jones of insulting them by initially appointing only white "fatcats." But whether the Beatty-Espy appointments will clear Jones of the black heat, only time will tell.

The answer to the question of whether a black can be elected Columbus Mayor, raised in a Columbus Dispatch Magazine two weeks ago may be forthcoming earlier than expected. According to the political grapevine, a prominent black educator, disgruntled with what he views as "pure negativism to the black community" in both the Democratic and Republican hierarchy, is seriously considering a "write-in-campaign" for Mayor in November.

He proposes to sort out his options during summer and launch his campaign by Labor Day.

CHILDREN KILLED IN FLASH FIRE BURIED

By TED OSHODI

With the theme, "What is the purpose of life?" the Rev. Rufus N. Simpson, pastor of Southfield Community Baptist Church, said, "Each one of us has a purpose; they have fulfilled their purpose."

Rev. Simpson was delivering the eulogy during the brief funeral services for the two children killed in a Northside flash fire last Wednesday.

The purpose of life is "to reach, to give, to spend and to sacrifice for others," Rev. Simpson told a gathering of friends and relatives at the services held last Saturday at the church, 1399 Augmont Ave.

Shanikqua Saddikka Johnson, 6, and Shawntwaan Demonde Johnson, 5, died in the fire that swept through their apartment at 1444 N. Fourth St. Apt. B-6, about 2:34 a.m.

Columbus Fire Department officials said the two children of Mrs. Cynthia Johnson, 24, were asleep in the upstairs bedroom, while their mother was in a separate bedroom when the smoke alarm went off.

But when Mrs. Johnson looked downstairs, the whole apartment was full of thick smoke, according to the fire department.

Trapped inside the smoldering blaze, the two children cried for help to no avail, said Dan Moncrief, fire inspector. Damages were estimated at $25,000. The two children died of smoke inhalation before they were burned, Moncrief

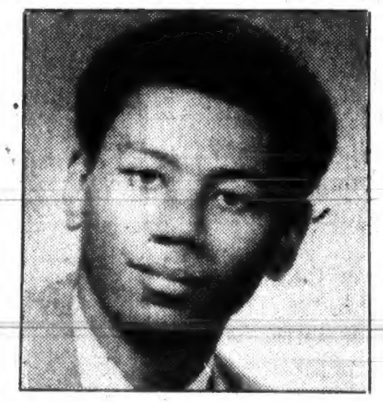
Former Black Police Officer Files Suit To Be Reinstated

By MARY TAYLOR

A former black Columbus police officer who resigned from the department in 1979 has filed suit to be reinstated.

In a suit filed in U.S. District Court, Ronald C. Kenley, 1792 Cole St., said since March 1, 1980, when he applied for reinstatement to the department, he has been denied equal terms and conditions of employment.

He argued in the suit he filed himself that the Columbus Police Department has a policy that if an employee resigns in good standing, the employee is eligible for rehire if he reapplies within one year.



RONALD C. KENLEY
...files suit to be reinstated

Kenley was found guilty of a departmental charge of gambling in March 1979. Although he resigned from the department in December 1979, he maintains he was in good standing when he resigned.

His resignation had nothing to do with the gambling charge but was the result of mental and physical problems, he said.

Kenley said he was injured in a head-on collision on April 5, 1978, while chasing two robbery and murder suspects and suffered back injuries. He subsequently requested to be reassigned from a patrol officer to a position where he would not have to sit for a long period of time.

"I wanted to get in anything where I wouldn't have to sit in a

How to use your phone to reactivate old accounts.

Telephone techniques from Ohio Bell can help revive your inactive accounts.

Your company's inactive accounts can be a rich source of new business, especially if you use your phone to reactivate them.

Studies have shown that most of your inactive accounts are inactive because they feel your company is indifferent to them. So, start with this fact uppermost in mind.

A personal call over the phone shows your interest.

You don't have to make a sales call in person to be personal. By calling on the phone, you can demonstrate to a customer just how interested you are in his business.

Keep in mind too that using your phone can save you a great deal of time and money. With a little practice, you can call on many inactive clients in a single workday without ever leaving your office.

Pre-call planning makes it work.

Before you call, it's important to find out all you can about why an account has become inactive.

Carefully check your records. When was the last order? Were there any complaints? Any problems with payment or terms? Also find out who it is you should talk to. Make sure it's [illegible] order.

With this in mind, prepare an opening statement to [illegible]

How to make the phone call.

Begin by identifying yourself and mentioning the business your companies did in the past. Then review the reasons why the business has stopped, or ask questions to find out the reasons.

Inform the customer of any changes that have taken place that will make it easier or better to do business with your company again. Now is the time to offer something special – a better price, a new product, special discounts, improved packaging, more favorable terms.

Following this pattern and adjusting it to meet each individual call can go a long way to bring your dormant accounts back to life.

Bill Moss Is National Guard Service Person Of The Year

Staff Sgt. William R. (Bill) Moss has been selected as the Service Person of the Year from the Ohio Army National Guard. Moss, a former member of the Columbus Board of Education, was honored at the Armed Forces Day luncheon at the Hyatt Regency.

Moss, who is currently on full-time active duty in the U.S. Army, stationed at the Howey Road Armory, was recommended for the Outstanding Service Person award by his commander at the 16th Engineer Bridgade Corps and was selected by the Armed Forces Community Relations Council of Columbus.

Moss joined the Army National Guard in February 1980. He was cited on Aug. 4, 1982, for his exceptionally meritorious achievement in the communications section of the 16th Engineer Brigade. He was selected as one of the top five graduates of the June class basic school at Camp Perry in the summer of 1982.

Moss is well known in Columbus as a radio personality and former school board member.

Poor People's Conference

"United Now and in the Future" is the theme for the Poor People's Conference that will take place, June 29-30 at the Sheraton Columbus Plaza, 50 N. Third St.

Poor people across the state will meet to discuss issues that affect their lives and that continue to keep them in poverty.

A platform will be developed by the poor addressing issues such as indequate income to meet basic needs, health, education and meaningful employment.

The issues will be presented to Gov. Richard Celeste and the state legislatures on June 30.

Workshops at the conference will include transportation, energy, employment and training, senior citizens, welfare, health and medicaid, youth, head start, housing, food and nutrition and migrants.

The conference is sponsored by Ohio Welfare Rights Organization and Ohio Association of Community Action Agencies.

Former Black Police Officer

cruiser all day." Kenley said the belt police officers are required to wear, weighing 9-12 pounds, gave him great discomfort.

He said his back hurt him so badly that "I couldn't even take a trip out of town. Couldn't sit that long."

Along with health problems, Kenley said he resigned from the department because of emotional stress caused by personal problems both at home and at the job.

"I got depressed. A lot of things were happening. I was having family problems caused by undue mental stress the department was putting me through."

A verbal request for a leave of absence was denied, Kenley said, so he said he felt he had to resign.

He said he never officially put the request in writing because, "After you've been there for six years you learn not to put things in writing that they can use against you."

"If I had sat back and thought about it longer, I don't think I would have resigned."

But, Kenley added, "I had no idea I wouldn't be able to come back."

"I miss it. Every time I hear that siren I hope it's only temporary."

Now physically and mentally fit, Kenley wants to be back on the police force.

"I've solved the problems I was having, I got a divorce so the pressure is off of me there. I feel that my physical health is excellent now."

Kenley said the gambling charges were nothing more than a conspiracy to get him out of the department.

He said he began, on his own, without departmental authorization to conduct a gambling investigation because he was anxious to get a transfer into the vice division.

Kenley, who said he was on two certification lists to be reinstated as a police officer, said the department won't tell him why he is not being reinstated.

He charges in the suit that four white officers who were in his academy class and resigned from the division were rehired.

In the defense arguments, Donald R. Keller, attorney for the City of Columbus, admits that the four white officers were rehired and says that the city had no legal obligation to rehire Kenley.

Kenley, who is a plaintiff in the federal law suit filed against the department by Police Officers For Equal Rights, said the department has refused to reinstate him because he is black and was one of the founding members of the black police organization.

"The department likes you to be black and silent. If you're outspoken you're a militant and a troublemaker," he said.

"At no point in my career was I told I was doing a bad job."

"I feel I was a good police officer. I saved lives and I almost lost my life twice."

day morning and is still confined to bed there.

In addition to the contusions suffered, she is also having problems with her right eye which will require treatment from a specialist and she has begun to have breathing problems.

Asked how long she must remain hospitalized, Mrs. Chafin said, "They don't know. They say I'm pretty smashed up."

Grant Hospital patient representative, Thelma Holmes said that Mrs. Chafin had x-rays taken of numerous bones and all tests were negative. Since no fractures or broken bones were discovered, the hospital staff released her about midnight. "From the results of the x-rays, there was no reason to admit her at that point," Ms. Holmes explained. "You must have more than bruises," Ms. Holmes said. Ms. Holmes also recalled that Mrs. Chafin returned for a second evaluation that night about 1 a.m., following the refusal of the staff to admit her, she called her family doctor and was transported to Doctors' West.

Prior to the accident, Mrs. Chafin had boarded the bus at Stevens and W. Broad. The bus was running late, she said. "I call down to COTA to find out what time I could catch the bus downtown and they said 9:50 p.m.," she said. "The bus did not get to my stop until 9:54 p.m.," she recalled, further explaining, "It (bus) was traveling over the speed limit when the next thing I knew was 'boom'!"

According to accident investigators the van was speeding north on Central Ave. when it ran a red light and struck the bus, which was headed east on W. Broad St. Columbus police said the speedometer on the van was stuck at 60 mph.

The impact spun the bus around and sent if off the north side of the street, where it knocked it over a street light pole and fire hydrant and finally struck a second utility pole.

"I haven't heard anything from anybody," Mrs. Chafin reported when asked if COTA officials had been in contact with her. She said she plans to sue.

Rick Lee, a claims representative for COTA, said that "since the guy at fault died, we're in no big hurry to contact the family."

The accident investigation report is due in a few days, he said.

CHILDREN KILLED IN FLASH FIRE BURIED

said. Mrs. Johnson escaped unhurt.

Last week, a group of outraged neighbors told The CALL & POST that the speculation that the woman had left her children in the house while she was somewhere else was unfounded.

Jakkie Peters, 24, a neighbor at 1444 N. Fourth St. Apt. 5A, said: "People are trying to turn the story around like she deliberately hurt her own kids. She did everything she could to save those kids."

Stephanie Peters, 20, of the same address, said: "When we were asleep, we heard a yell that the apartment was on fire, then my boyfriend told Mrs. Johnson to throw the kids out the window so he could catch them. It took the fire department about 20 minutes to get here; they could have saved those kids, had they been here on time."

Moncrief told The CALL & POST that the fire may have been caused by either an electrical malfunction or a cigarette butt dropped on the couch.

Moncrief, however, dismissed the statements that Mrs. Johnson left her kids in the fire to die, or that someone set the apartment ablaze.

Homicide Sgt. Cliff Davis said there is no indication that the fire was the result of "something criminal. It was an accidental death."

The two children are survived by their mother, Cynthia Johnson; maternal grandparents, Herbert L. and Sarah R. Brown; aunts and uncles, Mary (Robert) Early, Vanesa, Albert, Roberta and Tonya Johnson, Rosa (Frank) Wade, Patricia Brown, Herbert Jr. (Lubedia) Brown, Lyncc (Williams) Kornegay, Gian, Mervin and Sallie. Shanikqua and Shantwaan were buried last Saturday at the Evergreen Burial Park.

NAACP Gears Up for Series Of Freedom Fund Activities

Lois Solomon, second vice president of the Columbus Chapter of the NAACP, says a series of events are planned for the rest of the year to revitalize interest in the organization.

Ms. Solomon, who is chairperson of the NAACP Freedom Fund for 1983, said the activities will include fund raisers, youth participation, social events and the Annual Freedom Fund Banquet.

"To keep pace with changing times, the NAACP has launched a number of dynamic social programs that are speeding its march toward victory over racial hatred, bigotry and poverty."

She said, "The NAACP is people who believe in one American society, free and equal, who use every lawful method -- legal action, political action, economic persuasion and public information -- to make one society a reality, who, as an organized body of varied individuals, do more for civil rights than anybody else."

LOIS SOLOMON
...naacp freedom fund chairperson

Ms. Solomon said the Columbus Chapter has planned a Freedom Sunday on July 3 where all members and guests at local churches will have an opportunity to support the Chapter further through a free-will love offering. Charlene Morgan is co-chairperson of this event.

August has been designated as Youth Month. Various activities geared to youth involvement and participation will be held. Dr. Lewis Dodley is co-chairperson.

On Sept. 16, the Annual Freedom Fund Banquet will be held at Villa Milano Banquet and Party Center.

For information on the Columbus NAACP, the office is at 50 Hamilton Park, 464-1108.

Congratulations, Cupidette Winner

We offer our congratulations to Shelly Wood, the recent graduate of West High School who was crowned Miss Columbus Teenage Cupidette 1983.

We express our utter disgust at the attitude of those who odored the air with their bigotry because she won.

Shelly happens to be white. Because in the history of the Cupidette pageant no white contestant has every won, some wrongly assumed first place was always reserved for a black contestant.

How base. Were the truth to be known, some of those screaming because Shelly won would be the first to pick up the protest signs to demand a black be given the opportunity to win the top prize in any contest where whites have always taken first place.

The contest was open to ALL teen-agers who wanted to enter. Judges were asked to base their decision on factors other than race.

As the most victimized group in this country of prejudices and bigotry, we should not act as lowly as those who have victimized us.

Blacks And Ronald Reagan

You don't expect the Vice President of the United States to publicly disagree with the President so it was not surprising to hear Vice President George Bush say in Columbus the other week that Reagan has not written-off the black vote.

More to the point, saying Reagan has not written off the black vote is saying that Reagan has not shut the door on black people. No, Reagan has not done that.

However, evidence which shows that Reagan has pushed any of the causes dear to blacks is hard to come by. In contrast, he has devastated social programs that, rightly or wrongly, blacks have come to use as means of support when they don't have it themselves and can't find it elsewhere.

As a result, black leaders across the country have criticized the President. Reagan was rebuffed by the U.S. Supreme Court last month as the court upheld the Internal Revenue Service's right to deny tax exempt status to private schools that practice racial discrimination. Reagan originally sided with Bob Jones University, one of the schools involved in the court's 8 to 1 decision, in urging reversal of the IRS rule.

It would be hard indeed for the black public to name one black with high visibility and policy-making power in the Reagan Administration. But it's easy for the black public to see Reagan as the culprit in their worsening conditions. He opposes racial quotas, has abandoned defense of affirmative action, and is very reluctant to support civil rights issues.

Reagan practices a conservatism that has traditionally alienated blacks. Whether because of his own beliefs or persuasion by his top advisers (who, by the way, include no blacks) no longer matters.

What does matter is whether President Reagan can realistically back up his contention that blacks are far better off in the long term without over dependence on social programs. So far he has only produced whimsical statistics.

If the President offers nothing else, he doesn't have to write off the black vote. The black vote will write him off.

Marching 20 Years Later

In what may cast aside their image as largely social partiers and set a new precedent in attacking inequities for blacks, the leaders of the eight Greek-letter sororities and fraternities have called for massive march on Washington, D.C., this summer.

Of course the march quickly brings to mind the one led by the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King almost 20 years ago. Noting that Dr. King's dream for equal opportunity and elimination of racism remains far, far from reality in America, the leaders said this march also will be to focus attention on civil rights and economic issues.

With 600,000 college - trained blacks in the eight sororities and fraternities, some impact certainly will be made with the march.

At the same time of calling the protest march "for jobs, freedom and peace" on Aug. 27, the sororities and fraternities called for renewed voter registration efforts and economic development, and improved quality in elementary and secondary education.

This is the first nationwide action taken together by these groups to spearhead social, economic and political change in the black community.

The 600,000 fraternity and sorority members are headed in a direction that could lead other largely socializing organizations to roll up their sleeves and meet head-on the attack on gains blacks have made over the last 20 years since Dr. King's march on Washington.

NAACP Is On The Move Again

The Columbus Chapter of the NAACP is making strides in its efforts to re-establish itself as a strong voice in the affairs of the black community. The announcement this week that Freedom Fund activities offer something for young and old alike backs up the NAACP promise earlier this year that it's serious.

Lois Solomon, chairperson of the Freedom Fund and her co-chairpersons say they hope to generate new interest in the organization. Much of what they intend to do over the next year is good, sound public relations.

"To keep pace with changing times, the NAACP has launched a number of [illegible] its march toward victory over racial hatred, bigotry and poverty. [illegible] know its history as a crusader in the fight for justice and equality.

The NAACP's new attempts to reach the community is also needed if it is to add new supporters. A stronger NAACP translates into a stronger community.

Public Is Concern Of Black Legislators

CAPITOL COMMENTS

BY JOHN B. COMBS

When blacks were first elected to the Ohio Legislature in fairly representative numbers, there was a strong feeling that civil rights and other legislation of direct interest of black citizens would be their primary concern.

Such opinion was prevelant among many white and black citizens, even though it was without a shred of evidence.

Now, 17 years later, black legislators have dramatically and effectively torpedoed that groundless theory by their action. While civil rights and equal opportunity has top priority on the black lawmakers' agenda, their efforts on behalf of legislation which they deem in the best interest of the general public have been kept in sharp focus.

A bill dealing with the donation of blood, sponsored by Rep. John D. Thompson, D-Cleveland, is a case in point. The measure, having been approved by both the House and Senate, is virtually certain to be signed into law by Gov. Richard F. Celeste.

Like numerous other bills sponsored by black legislators and signed into law, Thompson's measure has absolutely nothing to do with race. It simply lowered from 18 to 17 the age one may donate blood without parental consent.

In presenting this bill, Thompson said enactment of the law would solve a serious problem the Red Cross and other blood banks are experiencing in obtaining blood donations. Under the parental consent process, he said 17 year olds frequently forget or misplace their permission slip the day of the drive, resulting in deferral instead of donation, he noted.

Pointing out that 29 states already have such a law, Thompson said the expansion of the blood-donor base "is essential to meet the demands for blood and blood products, and at the same time be responsive to community needs."

In the meantime, Rep. Ike Thompson, also a black from Cleveland, is experiencing stiff opposition to the bill to hike the state's axle-mile tax on truckers. The additional taxation would be earmarked for repairing deteriorating highway bridges in the state.

Thompson notes that according to a study, an 80,000-pound truck causes 9,600 times the damage to road bridges that a 2,000 pound car does. He also argues that highways are much more expensive to build, because pavement thickness and bridge clearances must be increased to accommodate trucks.

Truckers' representatives, however, disagree, arguing that they were charged a disproportionate share of highway costs under the federal highway tax law that included a 5-cent-a-gallon hike in fuel taxes last spring.

Thompson chairman of the Transportation and Urban Affairs Committee to which his bill was assigned, appears to be caught between the powerful lobbyists of the Ohio Trucking Association, opponents, and Motorists of Ohio for Vehicle Equite (Move), proponents, said the bill will probably be assigned to a subcommittee for reworking. Afterward, his committee will consider the bill as a substitute measure, he said.

Warren Tyler, who became the first black to head the Department of Commerce when appointed by Gov. Celeste, marked up another first in the Ohio Senate last week. He is the first black to be comfirmed by the Senate as a Political Independent. Normally, such appointees are listed as either a Republican for Democat.

And while this wasn't a first in the Senate, it was a rare occasion for a black when Rev. Percy A. Carter, pastor of Hosack Baptist Church, Columbus, was invited to offer the opening prayer of this august body June 2.

Women And Children In Poverty

To Be Equal

By John E. Jacob

In the old days, the cry used to be "save the women and children." The new style in public policy though, is to dump women and kids, for the nation is tolerating a situation in which poverty is becoming a fact of life for growing numbers of them.

One out of every four children in a family that is poor or near poor. That "near-poor" classification by the way, amounts to poverty in the real world -- the so-called poverty line simply defines object poverty, the poorest of the poor.

With a fourth of America's children growing up disadvantaged, the nation's future is in jeopardy. Those are kids without the opportunities to make it in the future.

And their numbers are growing fast. In the past three years, the number of poor children has increased by an incredible 20 percent. That's [illegible] female-headed households, but that's no answer. Those families are poor not because they are headed by women but because jobs and training [illegible] the U.S. Commission of Civil Rights, and it is aptly titled "A Growing Crisis: Disadvantaged Women and Their Children."

But those female poverty rates are high enough for all groups to make the point that poverty is rapidly becoming feminized. In fact, the National Advisory Council on Economic Opportunity stated:

"All other things being equal, if the proportion of the poor who are in female-headed families were to increase at the same rate it did from 1967 to 1971, the poverty population [illegible] nation turns its back on their [illegible]

taged single mothers barely exist.

And female poverty has a racial dimension too. Over two-thirds of black women family heads with children are poor; only about two-fifths of similar white families are poor.

the negative effects on such families in employment, education and health, but also the way cuts in federal social programs have worsened their situation.

Children whose mothers are poor suffer most. They are more prone to a host of ills starting with greater risk of birth defects and ending with higher incidence of malnutrition.

So it should come as no surprise that statistics indicate poor children are more likely to do badly in school work and to drop out of high school. Their unemployment rates are [illegible] policymakers have to understand the link between poverty and schooling.

But instead of buttressing poor families with jobs, training, food and special ed[illegible] tion aid, a self-styled pro-family Administration is cutting those programs drastically.

As the Civil Rights Commission report concludes: "As more and more women and children enter the ranks of the impoverished, the implications for the future of our society become overwhelming. To ignore these implications is unconscionable negligence. The bodies, minds, and spirits of millions of women and children are being inevitably and ineluctably affected by the dispiriting hand of poverty."

There's a disturbing sidelight to that report. The Administation plans to replace some members of the Commission who have been critical of its policies with die-hard conservatives. Stacking the Commission with opponents of affirmative action, school busing and other key issues will reduce its effectiveness as a watchdog [illegible] politics.

"Up With Education"

Dear Editor:

Parents, students, teachers and interested citizens are entitled to more information on the failure of our children to pass the new reading competency test.

I challenge the media to do some investigative reporting and let us know exactly where the failures occurred. For example, what is the total number of questions on the test? How many students failed to pass because they missed only one question below the acceptable level? How many missed the same question(s)? We want an analysis of the results.

The real failure is not enough teacher/pupil class room time and too little parent/child home study time. As a product of the Cleveland School system, I know the majority of the teachers are still competent and dedicated to their profession. I also know that even though many of our children are deficient in their reading skills, they are not dumb!

I say "up with education" and for goodness sake, if a child must ride a bus to school, encourage the riders to read to each other. If we would spend more time accentuating the positive, it would go a long way in helping to expedite elimination of the negative.

Ms. Shirley Hawk, Cleveland

Shaker School Levy

Dear Editor:

I would like to commend the Call And Post for the thoughtful, sober and well documented editorial carried in your June 9 edition regarding the defeat of the Shaker School Levy.

As a member of the Halt Automatic Tax Levies (HALT) Committee, I can assure you that none of us felt gleeful or happily victorious when the returns came in. We just felt vindicated and satisfied that the taxpayers of Shaker Heights had read and listened to what we were saying and voted on the facts as presented to them.

The members of the HALT Committee are as dedicated to good schooling as any Shaker resident past, present, or future. They also know, however, that throwing money at a school system does not a better system make. We feel that the Shaker School Board has failed to make any attempt to face a situation where school enrollment keeps going down, and costs keep rising.

Many of the Shaker residents who have no children in the school system (a whopping 77%) as well as young couples seeking homes in Shaker, can ill afford further taxes, especially when not needed. They are already the highest in the County.

The Shaker School Board insists on placing this issue before the electorate again on August 2 at considerable expense to the taxpayers. Again, the HALT committee will try, with its limited means, to alert Shaker residents that there are other alternatives to maintaining quality education than burdening residents with unrealistic taxes.

All-Nations Festival

Dear Editor:

Just to let you know how much we appreciate your John Lenear being a food judge at the All-Nations Festival--his presence made the event extra special!! We hope that he enjoyed our foods as much as we enjoyed having him with us. Thanks again!

Best wishes for a happy summer.

Positive Articles

Dear Editor:

With the ending of the school year, I want to thank you for your cooperation in publishing positive articles about West High School students. Public education needs a media outlet for the many good things involving pupils.

Again, thank you for your efforts.

Rep. Leland Shows That BlackVoting Power Works

Tony Brown's Comments

As the upsurge in Black political power coincides with the shameful absence of Afro-Americans from television entertainment movies; it is most interesting to watch the emergence of a Black political watchdog using one to slay the other.

Rep. Mickey Leland (D-Texas) is demonstrating the logical conclusion for Black empowerment through the political process. As the astute Black member of the House Telecommunications Subcommittee, Leland challenged both the facts and subtleties of racism in a hearing in Los Angeles.

When an NBC spokesman boasted of the redeeming value of the Mohawk hairstyled, King Kong as a Black character on the "A Team," and how he motivated children to study, the Houston politician shot back: "On screen he's a buffoon. Stepin Fetchit probably talked to young kids and told them to do their homework."

Leland could have added that the racist stereotype carried the same message in both cases. Stepin Fetchit was afraid of ghosts (turned white in graveyards); "Mr. T" is afraid of airplanes (faints while the White men scoff at the abnormal fear). We really have a "new" King Kong with "old" racist stereotypical hang-ups.

Current roles on television, Leland emphasized, "merely update the old Hollywood characterizations of the happy, shuffling darkies, mammies, pickaninnies and native guides."

Sidney Poitier, Robert Hooks and Brock Peters were among the Black actors who criticized the Hollywood studios, networks and independent White companies who insist that being color-blind is being fair. And, justice is to blame for the exclusion of Blacks, the reality argues.

The committee, led by Representative Timothy Wirth (D-Colorado), didn't need a seeing-eye dog and a cane to come to the conclusion that there is no intention on the part of the TV industry to voluntarily treat Afro-Americans as citizens of their own country.

Wirth said that he and Leland agreed that there was no need for further studies. The matter will now become part of the subcommittee's overall legislative strategy, which will probably mean the kind of legislation already supported by Leland. Any repeal of the financial interests and syndication rules, so dear to the hearts and pocketbooks of these rich White folks, will be tied to a debate over participation of Afro-Americans in television and made-for-television movies.

Speaking to the question of whether or not Black actors have been virtually eliminated from the silver screen, Sammy Davis said to me in a television interview: "absolutely." However, Davis, a veteran of the stage and screen for 50 years, says that independent Black films produced outside of Hollywood, as an alternative to Black exclusion in cinema, are risky.

"You can't start a revolution outside looking in," explains Davis. "You've got to start from inside looking out. And as long as we lack the feel within the artistic community of working together in complete unity and everyone sacrificing, it is never going to happen."

"Both the networks and production companies have abrogated their responsibilities" in terms of affirmative hiring and their "record is and has been abysmal," Leland reminded them. He also promised the Black actors, who called a full-scale investigation, that he would report back on their request to thoroughly examine this "very critical problem."

Larry Irving, the very sharp and tough behind-the-scenes assistant to Representative Leland, promised that the request will "definitely get attention from us."

Rep. Henry A. Waxman (D-California) has proposed H.R. 2250 to preclude FCC action until 1988. Leland is a supporter of the Waxman Bill.

If you want to support Leland and protect the interests of Blacks on television, contact Representative Mickey Leland (419 Cannon House Office Bldg., Washington, D.C. 20515) and see what you can do.

Leland has provided us with the leadership and a vehicle. Let's get on board.

An Abomination Of The Democratic Process

By DR. CHARLES E. COBB

The decision by President Reagan to restructure the composition of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission is his most severe attack on civil rights, since taking office.

It is alarming to think that a president would politically tamper with the one institution responsible for monitoring the nation's progress in the area of civil rights.

The presidential decision to remove Commission members who depart from his political views, and to appoint new members that maintain similar views as the administration is an abomination of the democratic process and an abuse of power. He has attempted to tamper with every division and agency of government with the responsibility of enforcing the nation's civil rights laws.

There is a veritable obsession on the part of the Reagan administration to close the door on civil rights. They have attempted every possible tactic, from calling for tax credit for schools that discriminate, to now actually manipulating the trustees of our federal civil rights.

If this decision was made unilaterally, I sincerely doubt Mr. Reagan's sense of reason. If this was a joint decision, the President should fire his advisors.

Perhaps the President is of the opinion that by appointing a Black, a woman, an Hispanic or some other minority he will win political favor with a particular group and simultaneously create the appearance of being committed to civil rights.

But be sure, Mr. President that we realize that it is the substance of the actor and not the cosmetics that is the important make-up.

In 1899, President Rutherford B. Hayes removed the federal troops from the south in order to secure the southern vote. This has been known as the Hayes-Tillden betrayal by some and "compromise" by others. Mr. Reagan appears to have a very compromising mind when it comes to civil rights.

We can ill afford to let the Reagan administration take us back to the dark ages in the area of justice and human rights.

Dr. Cobb is executive director of the United Church of Christ for Civil Rights Journal.

LEAVE THE DRIVING TO US.

If you've ever traveled by car, you know it's a fact: Taking your car means taking chances. You can get lost, have a flat tire, run out of gas; the list goes on and on. The point is, why take those chances, when Greyhound has a better way.

On Greyhound, you get a low fare, and none of the problems of driving your car. So, instead of fighting traffic and getting tense, relax in one of Greyhound's big, reclining seats. Take a nap if you like. It's amazing how comfortable travel can be when someone else is doing the driving. Drive your car and all you can watch is the road. And that gets pretty tiring. Take Greyhound, and you can sit back, relax, and watch the beauty of America as you look through our big, tinted windows.

And because Greyhound's going more places more often than anybody else, chances are, we're going where you want to go, when you want to go. Greyhound offers many of the advantages of the car with none of its disadvantages.

So next trip, leave your car at home and your troubles behind. Go Greyhound.

GO GREYHOUND
And leave the driving to us.

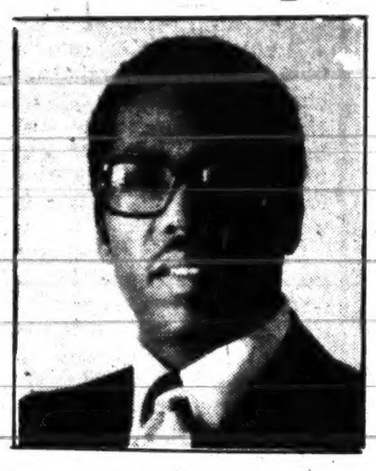
FOCUS OF FUND RAISING-This is the Eleventh Avenue Elementary School that the Harambee School is seeking to purchase from the Columbus Board of Education. At least $4,000 was raised in the first week of the community-wide campaign to raise $81,000 to buy the facility, which has a total cost of $90,000. (KOJO PHOTO)

Harambee School Receives Extension To Buy Facility

Harambee School requested and received a 30-day extension from the Columbus Board of Education to pay the remaining $81,000 to purchase the Eleventh Avenue School.

"We will be going to the banks again this week to borrow the funds," said Mwanza Charles Ross, director of the Harambee School. "We have needed time to organize the limited partnership to purchase the building. We still need a few more persons who are willing to join as partners and help assume liability for the loan."

Ross said the money will be borrowed from a bank and the limited partnership will be responsible for the mortgage in case of default. The limited partners will not lose because the property will serve as collateral, he added.



CHARLES ROSS
...heads effort to buy school

"Yes, we went to the City Department of Development and we were told that they did not have any funds for economic development. We also approached Michael Dorrian, county commissioner. He didn't even give us the courtesy of a response," Ross confirmed.

"I think the effort points up how politically ineffective we are in the black community," he concluded.

SS Cost Of Living Increase Delayed

People receiving Social Security benefits who were expecting an increase in their checks in July will have to wait six more months before they receive an automatic cost of living increase, according to Stefan Gasparovic, SS district manager in Columbus.

A recent change in the law delayed the July 1983 cost of living increase until January 1984. Future increases will be paid in January of each year.

For more information contact SS at 469-6850.

The purpose of the change is to save the system money and help it regain its financial strength, Casparovic said.

Musical Memorial Set For Frazier

"...Yea, saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and that their works do follow after them."-from Johannes Brahms' "Requiem."

On Sunday, June 26 at 5 p.m. a musical tribute to the late Michael Frazier will be presented at Bethany United Presbyterian Church, 206 N. Garfield Ave. Frazier died on June 25 in Buffalo, N.Y.

Singing in the Mass Choir will be members of the Bethany Chancel Choir, Alma Porter Terrell Memorial Oratorio Society, Paul Laurence Dunbar Choir and many friends of the deceased.

Music from the oratorios: "Elijah," "Messiah" and "Requiem" will be performed, in addition to anthems, spirituals and gospel. All music to be performed on the program was once directed by Frazier.

"Have you ever asked yourself-"When I am laid to rest, who will remember me? asked tribute director, Otis Jones. "As I traveled down life's highway, did I make an impression on someone by contributing unselfishly of my talents, my all to them?" Jones added.

"Those who knew Michael can surely say he was such a person," Jones said.

"As one looks around," he explained, "there are many things named in the memory of someone dear-buildings, parks, highways, squares, schools, streets, etc."

"It is only befitting that such a tribute be made to remember Michael," he concluded.

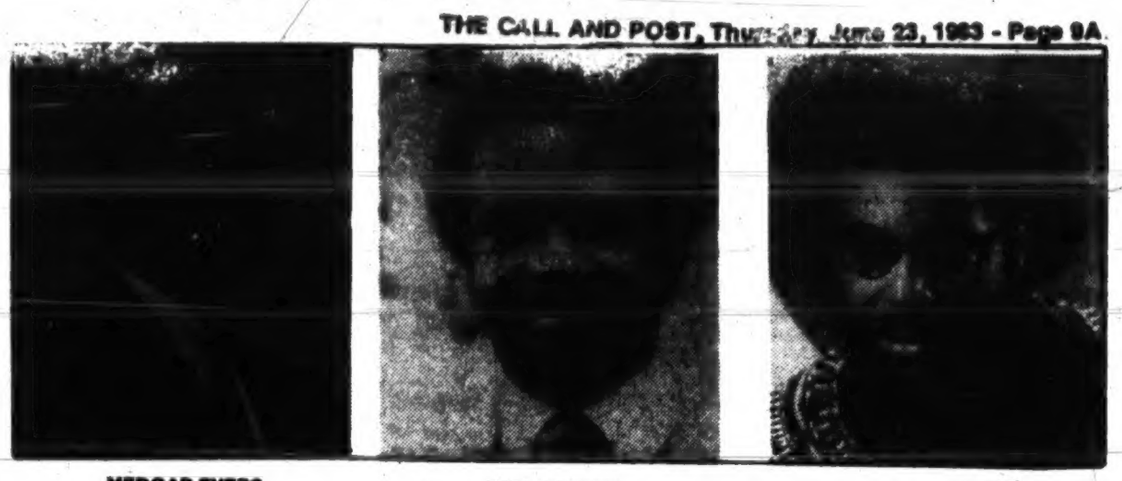
'AfroFair '83' To Feature Local Artists, Performers



MEDGAR EVERS ...death recalled

MEL GRIFFIN ...to emcee

JAMES EARL JONES ...to narrate film

By CHARLIE BRIGGS

Music, art and children's activities will be highlighted during the fourth annual Afro-Fair '83 Arts and Crafts Festival sponsored by the Art for Community Expression, Inc., and WBBY Radio.

The festival will bring artists together from throughout Columbus to the Mt. Vernon Plaza Focal Point Saturday and Sunday, June 25 and 26. The activities are from noon to 6 p.m., each day. Free balloons will be given away and a FM/AM radio cassette recorder raffle will be held.

WBBY Jazz 104 radio personalities Arnett Howard and Mel Griffin will emcee the performing arts activities Saturday and Sunday. Saturday performances will begin at noon with Cultural Exchange, an African drum and dance group from Dayton, Ohio. Also from Dayton will be the Creek Side Players, a theatrical performing group, at 1 p.m.

Children's performances will begin at 2 p.m., with the Marion-Franklin Dance Theatre Company. Also appearing will be the Barnett Drill Team, Brentnell Dancers, Blackburn Dancers and the Marion-Franklin Drill Team. Howard and the PaceSetters Band will move into the spotlight at 5 p.m.

Mel Griffin Productions is coordinating the gospel music on Sunday. The groups expected to participate include the Good Sheppard Dance Company, Joanne Lyles, Family, the Helping Hand Choir and others. The Les Danseurs Noir Dance Company, under the direction of Ms. Bettye Robinson, will begin the program at noon.

One of the main attractions of the festival will be a new event this year. Childrens artwork will be featured in a gallery setting in one of the stores located in the plaza. There will also be art exhibits of artwork produced by children in the Columbus Parks and Recreation Centers.

A partial list of local visual artists planning to exhibit works includes: Mary Jones, Charles Dillard, Queen Brooks, Janet D. Smith, Ronald Shelton, Alice Slade, IsSaid, Brenda Bythewood, Smoky Brown, Freda Trotter, Charles Jackson, Harry Edwards, Lynn Graves, Larry Collins, Pepper and Kojo.

Little Rock Breaks Ground; New Church By Late Autumn

The Little Rock Church of Christ, 851 Frebis Ave., celebrated its long awaited ground breaking ceremony May 29.

As the officiates of the occasion proceeded out of the present church they were met by a downpour of showers which dampened their garments, not their spirits.

Their spirits were exemplified by the L.R. Holy Ghost Cheerleaders, which cheered them on with the words, "The Lord Our God Has Given Us This Land."

Miss Deidre Graves sang the feature selection "To God Be the Glory." The song expressed the sentiments of the church pastor, District Elder Joseph Pannell.

As the ceremony began and scripture was read, the eight participants dug deep and laid the foundation upon a little rock, symbolizing the solidarity of the church.

A drawing of the new church is on display near the intersection of Frebis and Ohio Ave. The drawing will be on display until the church is completed, sometime in the Fall.

Good Shepherd Baptist To Observe Men's Day

The men of Good Shepherd Baptist Church, 1555 E. Hudson St., will observe their seventh annual Men's Day on Saturday, June 25, and Sunday, June 26.

Services will begin with church school at 8:45 a.m. Sunday. Morning worship will follow at 9:45. The Rev. Rosamond C. Kay Jr., pastor of Shiloh Baptist Church in Erie, Pa., will be the guest speaker. His topic will be "Will Your Landing Gear Hold?"

A special Men's Day Chorus under the direction of Wesley Cardwell will furnish music. The observance theme is "Every Man a Steward."

Attorney Webster S. Lyman is general chairman and Byron Jackson and Jerry Shepherd are co-chairmen. Dr. Harold E. Pinkston Sr. is pastor.

Missionary Rally Set At Oakley

Annual General Missionary Rally Day will be held at Oakley Baptist Church, 64 S. Highland Ave., Sunday, June 26.

Guest speaker for the morning and afternoon services will be the Rev. Earl Preston Jr., pastor of Morning Star Baptist Church, Cleveland. Rev. Preston will be accompanied by his choir and congregation.

Mrs. Dollene Scott is General president and the Rev. Jacob J. Ashburn, Oakley pastor.

REV. EARL PRESTON JR.
...guest speaker

Annual Tea Scheduled

The third annual "Calendar Tea" will be held at Union Grove Baptist Church, 266 N. Champion Ave., on Sunday, June 26 at 4 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Tables for each calendar month will be judged to determine which is most beautifully decorated with the winning table receiving special recognition.

Free Dinners To Be Served

The Missionary Board of Greater Liberty Temple COGIC will serve free Bar-B-Que chicken dinners to the needy at 12 noon, Thursday, June 30.

The church is located at 1155 Windsor Ave.

Hosack St. Baptist Slates Activities

Annual Vacation Bible School at Hosack Street Baptist Church, 1160 Watkins Rd., continues through Friday, July 1 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, Monday-Friday.

The closing program will be held at 10:30 a.m. July 1 with a "Rainbow-Man Parade of Five Promises." Arts and crafts will be displayed by each class. Refreshments will be served to all. A free-will offering will be taken.

The theme of Vacation Bible School is "Jesus, Lord of Promises."

A "Lollipop Tea" will be hosted by the Uniorette's Choir on Sunday, July 10 from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Featured will be a children's talent show directed by Mrs. Marie Hunter. She will be assisted by Mrs. Mary Jane Byrd and Mrs. Yvonne Pate. Proceeds from the program will be used to buy new robes. The children range in age from 2-12 years.

The annual Sunday School Picnic will be held Saturday, July 2 at the Hoover Southside Y Park on Rohr Rd. from 8:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

All church members, families and guests are cordially invited to bring a picnic basket and enjoy the day.

Women Open Their Hearts, Minds To Share Inner Loves, Thoughts At Elegants' Meet

The Elegants staged their annual "Girl Talk" on a Sunday afternoon at Ravine Bluff Party House. As has been the custom, their guests left their unique party feeling that they had been graciously entertained and had many pleasantries to think and talk about long after the party ended.

In previous years, The Elegants have used invited speakers who zeroed in on designated topics. This year was different. Viola Green chaired Girl Talk and Evelyn Manuel was the mistress of ceremonies. Viola and Evelyn came up with a format that required audience participation.

Evelyn started by letting both members and guests know that the agenda for the afternoon was getting to know one another better. Evelyn said, "I would like each of you to stand up and tell us a little something about yourself.

"We see one another in numerous social situations and we engage in small talk, but we don't really know what one another is about. I want you to share some of your life and some of your experiences with the rest of us."

Robbie Cromwell, wife of the late Robert Cromwell, was the first to speak. Robbie said that she didn't have any brothers and sisters. She said she had been a member of The Elegants for many years and cherished the companionship and support that had been given to her by her club sisters. She said their love and support had come to mean even more to her since her husband's death.

Evelyn, who has written poetry, told us that she has an outline for a book. "If my friends don't want to be a character in my book, they had better let me know." We were all trusting souls, because we forgot to ask her what her book would be about.

Jean Hamilton, a 24-year employee at Battelle Memorial Institute, didn't pass up a golden opportunity to talk about her darling granddaughter. She added, "Babies are for the young."

Evelyn Clark, a charter member of The Elegants and a social worker at the Family Counseling and Crittenton Services, called our attention to the need for black adoptive parents. She said that she was hoping that she would know many of us better by the time the afternoon ended.

Elaine Reese, one of the newer members of the club and the incoming president for 1983-84, told us that she and her husband, Charles, had just celebrated their 38th wedding anniversary. With her looks, she could have added -- and many of us would have believed -- that she was a child bride, but she didn't.

Carolette Curtis, professor of social work at Ohio State University, said that her daughter, Carla, has completed all of the course work for the doctorate degree at Harvard U. Carla is living in the Washington area while completing her research for her dissertation. And without intending to, she shocked some of us when she said that Carla is 30 years old.

Rose Starks, the out-going president of The Elegants, told us that she is the mother of six and a member of the board of directors of a black dance company, which she said deserves strong community support. Her husband is the director of maintenance for the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority. "I am aunt to 32 nieces and nephews," Rose said.

The former Gwen Duggar shared the biggest surprise of the afternoon. "I have just recently become Mrs. Earl Wilson," Gwen said as she smiled.

Adelaide Anderson identified herself as a homemaker. She told us that she sells encyclopedias and other educational material so that she can keep in touch with people. "I enjoy people," Adelaide said.

No one shared deep, dark secrets that afternoon, but there were lots of tid-bits. Duane Thompson is delighted that Gwen Duggar and Duane's father, Earl Wilson, are married, and she is proud of her daughter who is an investment counselor at Huntington National Bank ... Lucia Cherry, a longtime federal employee, is looking forward to attending the Carousels' Conclave in Chicago ... Janine Crockrell Thompson, a graduate of Eastmoor High School who has a Juris Doctorate from John Marshall U., in Atlanta, is in the Ohio Attorney General's Office ... Thelma Clark, a former member of The Elegants, likes to travel. "I just went through a wedding of a son." ... Kathy Starks is contemplating retirement at the end of the year ... Jean Hamilton's very attractive sister-in-law, Evelyn, works at BancOhio National Bank ... Jean's friend, Yvonne Bolt, is a housewife of 33 years and has been Jean's guest at Girl Talk so long that she would be crushed if Jean didn't invite her ... Marian Bannister loves music and commutes to the VA Hospital in Chillicothe, where she is a social worker ... Janet Howell has been a member of The Elegants for 30 years, is very proud of her daughter who lives in New York and is taking advantage of the technological revolution ... Beverly Garnes loves The Elegants and has been a member since the club was called the "We Moderns." She, like the rest of the members, said belonging to The Elegants added a special dimension to her life

The most memorable comments of all came from Shirley Berry a former cancer patient. "Keep tab on your physical health. Become involved with yourself," she told us. "I get lots of enjoyment out of caring for those who can't care for themselves."

After each of us had our say, Viola Green, who like others was much too modest when she told us about her interest in working with silk flowers, invited us to "Chat and Chew."

This was music to our ears because the food was superb The variety was tremendous and included lots of goodies that are a delight but a no-no to dieters

Each of the guests were given a gold "Key to Elegance" as a memento. In addition, some lucky women possessing the right numbers won beautiful and useful prizes.

It was a delightful afternoon and those who got lost and couldn't find Ravine Bluff Party House missed a good time

Hostesses for the afternoon and members of The Elegants are Dorothy Bell, Marie Castleman Evelyn Clark, Robbie Cromwell Gwendolyn Wilson, Beverly Garnes, Viola Green, Jean Hamilton, Janice Howell, Elaine Reese Betty Robinson, Evelyn Manuel and Rose Starks.

Miami U. Graduate

Carla Y. Banks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mickey, graduated with honors recently from Miami University during the school's 144th annual commencement exercises.

Banks received a bachelor of science degree in mass communication. During the 1982-83 school year, Banks was given the Minority Achievement Award for Outstanding Minority Student of Miami U.; was a finalist in the Miss Southwestern Ohio Scholarship Pageant held in Wilmington; and was a team member of Laws Hall and Associates, a corporate advertising firm formed by Miami U. students and faculty.

While at Miami U., Banks was a member of Omicron Delta Kappa National Honorary Society, Alpha Epsilon Rho National Broadcast Honorary Society and Order of Omega National Honorary Society for Greek Affiliates.

During her junior year, she received special recognition as the minority student with the highest grade point average. She was president and secretary of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority and was named the outstanding senior member of 1982-83.

She plans to receive her masters degree.

PACE
PACKAGING AFFORDABLE COVERAGE for EMPLOYEES

"I'm concerned about my employees, but, frankly, the cost of employee benefits is putting all of us in a tight spot."

Responding to this problem, Blue Cross and Blue Shield have expanded the concept of flexibility in health care protection: packaging affordable coverage for employees. We call it PACE.

Through the innovative packaging of benefits and no-red-tape administration, PACE finds ways to cut the costs of group insurance costs, yet keeps coverage at traditionally high major medical levels. Through deductibles and co-payments, employees participate in lowering the cost.

The plan is simple and easy for employees to understand. Benefits are clearly spelled out. And there is the same cross-country identification card acceptance that always comes with a benefit package from Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

If, like most employers, you

GUEST AT BABY CONTEST - Besides the baby contest, the Phi Zeta Mu chapter of Alpha Chi Pi Omega Sorority (Beauty Culturists) presented Malaika Thompson, left, dancer and soloist, and Erica Evans, who recited 14 verses of the New Testament. Mrs. Birdie Breedlove was chairperson of the chapter tea. Her committee was Leona Wade, Faye Webb, Glenna Woody, Marian Colson, Thelma Bondurant, Mary Dobson, Jane Ellis, Mattie Henson and Edna McGee. Mary Ellis is basileus of the chapter of cosmetologists.

BABY CONTEST WINNERS - The Phi Zeta Mu chapter of Alpha Chi Pi Omega Sorority (Beauty Culturists) presented the winners of the annual baby contest held at the Poindexter Center. Getting both the winners and their prizes to pose, however, posed quite a problem for the photographer. Show are, from left, David Guess and his mother Mrs. Mary Guess and his huge baby chick for winning third place; Amber Lee Church and mother Mrs. Vandetta Church hold a doggie for second place; and Rioquia Thompson and mother Mrs. Richale Thompson received a plaque and a giant bunny for first place. Norman Mayfield has a dream. It's Anheuser-Busch's dream, too.

When Norm Mayfield was growing up on Chicago's South Side, the last thing he was dreaming about was owning his own beer distributorship. His dream then was to be the world's greatest saxophone player. "Unfortunately," he laughs, "I found out playing sax didn't pay the rent."

So after Junior College and a stint in the Army, Norm came to work in sales for the Anheuser-Busch Chicago branch. It wasn't long before he showed his keen knack for marketing and promotions.

His dream was changing, too. "By then," Norm relates, "I thought I might have the opportunity to run my own distributorship."

In March of this year, that dream was realized when he and his partner, Ron Wiese, took over the Anheuser-Busch distributorship in Washington, D.C.

With sixty employees spread over 38,000 square feet and the only controlled environmental warehouse in the Washington D.C. area, Norm's operation is definitely a dream come true.

It's also an asset to the community. Through the distributorship's Reclamation Center, Norman achieves a dual benefit: he collects a half million pounds of returnable cans a year. And the people in the area who pick up the cans are paid handsomely for their efforts.

In fact, as an incentive, Norm has set up collection contests and bonus programs with the local Jaycees and Boy Scouts, encouraging these youngsters to earn extra money after school, much as he did when he was their age.

And what about future dreams? "Just trying to keep on top of the beer business is a challenge in itself. And I'd like to work more with the kids in the area, perhaps hiring them on during the summer months."

We at Anheuser-Busch are proud to have played a part in Norman Mayfield's dream, both for his business and the community.

And we share his hope to build a brighter tomorrow. One we can all be proud of.

Building a future.
Dream by dream.

PAGEANT CONTESTANTS such as these charming young ladies will compete again this October in the 1983 edition of the annual "Ebonnaire Pageant of Columbus." Males and females, ages 5-28, are eligible to participate. Call 895-1390 for an application and information. The registration deadline is Thursday, June 30. Shown here are several of the 1982 "Ebbonnaire Pageant" contestants. From left, they are: Shon Hemsley, Tiffany Paige, Tinia Bradshaw, Malaika Thompson, Chimene Russell, Bonita Haynes, Tiffany Birden and Alana Stromer.

Pageant Sign-Up Deadline Nears

"The time is NOW to apply for the 1983 "Ebonnaire Pageant of Columbus," says Ms. Verna Wood, a sponsor of the annual youth extravaganza.

Males and females, ages 5-28, are eligible to participate.

Youngsters who want to enter the contest are urged to call pageant headquarters immediately at 895-1390 for application and information. The deadline for signing-up is June 30.

"Let's grow together through helping others," is the theme of the pageant to be held in October, Ms. Wood said.

In addition to being judged on talent, speech, poise, personality and appearance, the contestants must also volunteer at least ten hours of their time in an effort to reach out to help someone else. Service may be rendered through a church, school, nursing home, day care center, etc.

The winners of the 1982 pageant, held at the Fort Hayes Career Center, were: Tiffany Birden, winner of the Community Service Special Award and first runner-up to "Miss PreTeen;" Malaika Thompson, "Little Miss Ebonnaire;" Chimene Russell, "Miss PreTeen Ebonnaire;" Bonita Haynes, "Miss Teen Ebonnaire," Robert Brown, "Mr. Teen Ebonnaire" and Special Talent Award and Tinia Bradshaw, "Ms. Ebonnaire."

Anyone wanting to write to Ms. Wood may do so by writing EBONNAIRE INC., attn: Ms. Verna Wood, P.O. Box 09504, Columbus OH. 43209.

Former Big Ten Coach Loses Cancer Battle In Wisconsin

The first black man to serve as head coach of a Big Ten basketball team, BILL COFIELD, died of cancer Tuesday at the University of Wisconsin Hospital. He was 43.

During the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association basketball tournament at Norfolk, Virginia in March, Cofield told The CALL & POST that he was tending more to his family and his health after having been pressured out of the coaching spot with the Badgers, but he also spoke of returning to the coaching ranks. It was not until April 23 that the life-claiming pancreatic cancer was diagnosed.

He will be much missed by the sports community.

ooo

JAMES SULLINGER will replace Larry Walker as the head basketball coach at East High School. Sullinger has collegiate coaching experience, having been the assistant coach at Grambling State in 1980-81. He had also headed up the Oberlin College squad in 1979-80 after being an assistant coach there the year before.

Sullinger played basketball at Oberlin from 1975-78 en route to a bachelor's degree in physical education. He earned a master's degree in sports administration from Grambling in 1980.

OSU Athletic Council Tabs Wagstaff As New Chairman

By FELIX HOOVER
(Columbus Bureau)

Dr. Lonnie Wagstaff of the Ohio State Department of Education Policy and Leadership, has been named chairman of the OSU Athletic Council.

One of three black members on the council, the others being Dr. Robert Dorsey and Charles McMurray, Wagstaff is charged by the University Senate to be the policy making body for the Athletic Department.

Among the responsibilities of the council are making eligibility determinations and reviewing University eligibility rules to see if they are compatible with Big Ten and NCAA guidelines.

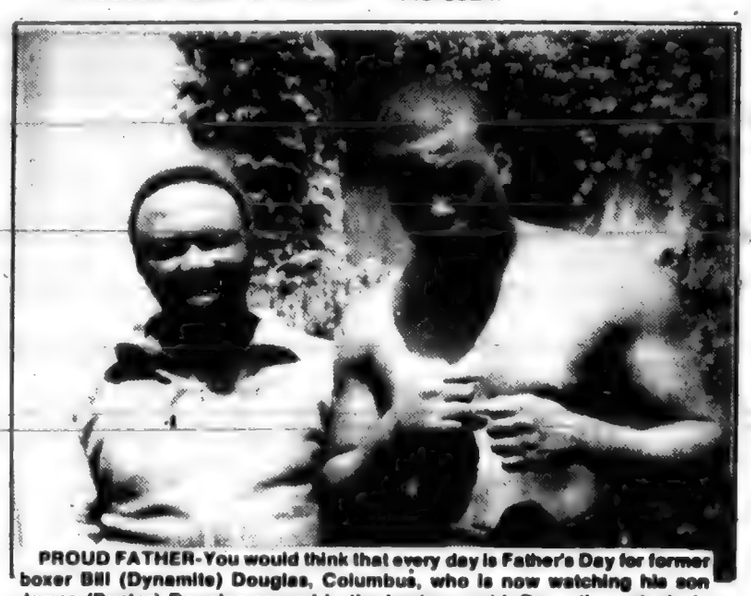
Intra-murals are also under the purview of the council and according to Wagstaff, their intra-mural programs are "one of the largest, most effective in the country."

In providing leadership for the council, Wagstaff helps determine which items are placed on the agenda. He also appoints all committee of the policy body and is an ex-officio member of all committees.

In addition, he must report annually to the University Senate on business conducted by the Athletic Council during the course of the year.

Wagstaff, who has been at Ohio State fourteen years, did his undergraduate work at the "dreaded" University of Oklahoma. He gives complete assurance that he is "a full-fledged Buckeye now."

Other members of the Wagstaff household are his wife Willola, a teacher in Columbus, and daughter Willonda.



PROUD FATHER-You would think that every day is Father's Day for former boxer Bill (Dynamite) Douglas, Columbus, who is now watching his son James (Buster) Douglas ascend in the boxing world. Recently exclusively promotional rights for the young pugilist were turned over to Peltz Promotions in Atlantic City, N.J. Young Douglas, who is a heavyweight, is getting ready to face David Johnson on July 5. (HOOVER PHOTO)

CLINTON SMITH

Achievement Academy Honors Tiger Senior

East High's Chris Latham will enter his senior year with people beyond the Central Ohio area knowing who he is. That's because he is one of the students being cited by the United States Achievement Academy for meeting high standards academically socially and athletically.

Latham, who led the City League in passing during his junior season, is anxiously awaiting the next school year and is expecting several changes at East under new head coach Doug Smith.

CHRIS LATHAM

The 6'1" quarterback and soon to be safety had praise for former Tiger boss Robert Steele, but believes Smith will be better able to relate to players on a "one-to-one" basis.

Latham says that he looks at high school football "as an activity to keep you occupied." He adds, however, that if he gets a college scholarship he will continue to compete on the gridiron.

Smith Leaves OSU

Forward/guard Clinton Smith has officially decided to transfer from Ohio State University as of Tuesday. Smith's family in Cleveland would say only that the likeable young man was leaving for "personal reasons."

Smith and his father had both expressed displeasure at the limited amount of playing time Clint had received during the past season, but officials at Ohio State said the parting was on friendly terms.

There is indication that Smith intends to continue his education at a junior college, but no definite plans have been announced to date.

On June 2, 1983, a Notice of Application of the Ohio Bell Telephone Company for Increases and Adjustments in Rates and Charges appeared in this newspaper. That notice contained an error in the section headed TOUCH-TONE® calling service. The following notice has been corrected.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION OF THE OHIO BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY FOR INCREASES AND ADJUSTMENTS IN RATES AND CHARGES

Pursuant to the requirements of Section 4909.19 of the Ohio Revised Code, the Ohio Bell Telephone Company hereby gives notice that on March 31, 1983, it filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio an Application (P.U.C.O. Case No. 83-300-TP-AIR) for authority to increase and adjust its rates and charges for telecommunications services and to change its regulations and practices affecting the same.

This notice contains the substance and prayer of the Application. However, any interested party desiring complete, detailed information with respect to all affected rates, charges, regulations and practices should inspect a copy of the Application and all attached schedules at the office of the Commission, 375 South High Street, Columbus, Ohio. A copy of the Application and the proposed tariff sheets is also available for inspection during normal business hours at Ohio Bell public business offices. In addition, the proposed tariffs were mailed to the mayors and legislative authorities of all municipalities in Ohio on February 25, 1983, as part of the Company's notification of its intent to file.

This Application affects rates and charges for telecommunications services to all customers of the Ohio Bell Telephone Company and, in addition, affects the rates and charges for certain services governed by concurrences of other telephone companies serving all other subscribers in the State of Ohio.

The affected Ohio Bell Telephone Company tariffs are:

Exchange and Network Services Tariff	(P.U.C.O. No. 1)
Message Toll Telephone Service Tariff	(P.U.C.O. No. 7)
Private Line Service Tariff	(P.U.C.O. No. 2)
Mobile Telephone Service Tariff	(P.U.C.O. No. 3)

(Proposal to withdraw general manual service from this tariff.)

Any person, firm, corporation or association may file, pursuant to Section 4909.19 of the Ohio Revised Code, objections to the proposed increases and adjustments in rates and charges, and to the proposed changes in regulations and practices affecting the same. The objections may allege that such Application contains proposals that are unjust and discriminatory or unreasonable. Recommendations which differ from the Application may be made by the staff of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio or by intervening parties and may be adopted by the Commission.

LOCAL EXCHANGE SERVICE

Ohio Bell is asking to increase local service rates because it now costs more than $25 a month to provide basic residence service, but the Company is collecting only about $12 a month for this service. The difference has traditionally been made up by a subsidy from long distance and other discretionary services, but these sources are rapidly disappearing.

The introduction of competition in the telephone industry and changes in public policy over the past 15 years have brought about the reorganization of the Bell System. This reorganization resulting in the divestiture of Ohio Bell and 21 other Bell telephone companies from AT&T, scheduled for January 1, 1984, has put a deadline on the need for replacing the revenue lost through the elimination of this historical subsidy.

RESIDENCE SERVICE

The increases proposed in monthly rates for residence customers for 1-party unlimited, 2-party unlimited, 1-party message, 2-party message and 1-party measured rate service access lines are shown below. Monthly usage allowances and the charge for additional local messages over the allowances for message service will not be changed, nor will the time and mileage charges for measured rate service.

	1-party* unlimited	2-party unlimited	1-party† message	2-party message	1-party‡ measured
Present	$12.95	$10.30	$ 8.25	$ 8.10	$5.80
Proposed	18.80	14.90	12.00	11.85	8.50

Note: Prices do not include monthly charges for leased telephones or the proposed $4 monthly charge per line for all customers explained in the Long Distance Section of this notice.

*Unlimited Service
Price includes line and unlimited usage.

2-Party Service
Subscribers with 2-party unlimited or message service can retain the service at their present locations, but no new 2-party service will be installed.

†Message Service
Price includes 30 outgoing local calls monthly. Each additional local call will continue to be 7 cents.

‡Measured Service
The price is for the line only. The charge for each outgoing local call depends upon when and where the call is placed and its duration. No changes are proposed for any of these usage rates.

NON-RESIDENCE SERVICE

The increases proposed in monthly rates for non-residence customers for individual line message and measured service, rotary line message and measured service, PBX trunk message and measured service and semi-public coin service are shown below. The monthly usage allowance and the charge for additional local messages over the allowance will not be changed, nor will the time and mileage charges for measured rate service.

	Individual line *	Individual line †	Rotary line *	Rotary line †	PBX trunk *	PBX trunk †	Semi-public coin
Present	$22.85	$22.30	$26.05	$25.60	$29.40	$25.60	$19.95
Proposed	28.55	27.80	32.60	31.90	36.55	31.90	25.55

Note: Prices do not include monthly charges for leased telephones or the proposed $4 monthly charge per line for all customers explained in the Long Distance Section of this notice.

*Message Service
The price for message non-residence service includes 90 outgoing local calls. Additional local calls are 7 cents each. No changes are proposed in the allowance or the price per call.

†Measured Service
The price is for the line only. The charge for each outgoing local call depends upon when and where the call is placed and its duration. No changes are proposed for any of these usage rates.

GENERAL

Monthly rates for optional one-way Extended Area Service and Community Calling Service would generally be increased in proportion to the overall increase in basic exchange service. In addition, Ohio Bell is asking to establish 2-way, non-optional Extended Area Service between 36 contiguous Ohio Bell communities over the next few years as electronic switching systems are installed in central offices.

Service rates not proposed to be changed in this Application include:

- The monthly call allowance for local calls under message rate service and the charge for additional local calls over the allowances, as well as time and mileage charges under measured rate service.
- The monthly allowance for calls to Directory Assistance.
- The charge for local coin telephone calls not requiring an operator.

INSTALLATION, MOVE AND CHANGE CHARGES

Some elements of the basic charges to install, move and change service and equipment would be increased and some would be decreased. However, residence and individual line non-residence customers would be able to avoid some of the charges by obtaining their equipment at an Ohio Bell Service Center or by providing their own equipment. More detailed information about these items can be found in the proposed tariff sheets.

CHARGES FOR INSTALLING SERVICE FOR RESIDENCES AND SMALL BUSINESSES

Line	Present	Proposed
Residence	$31.65	$27.00
Non-residence	54.50	32.00
Work Done on Customers' Premises
First 15 minutes	25.00	33.00
Each additional 15 minutes	10.00	11.00

CHARGES FOR INSTALLING SERVICE FOR BUSINESSES WITH MORE THAN ONE LINE AND CENTREX

Line	Present	Proposed
Business (4 line example)	$148.00	$128.00
Work Done on Customers' Premises	50.80†	33.00 – first 15 min.* 11.00 – each add. 15 min.*
Centrex
Each service order	53.00	59.00
Work Done on Customers' Premises	21.70†	33.00 – first 15 min.* 11.00 – each add. 15 min.*

†Charge for work on customers' premises.
*The proposed charge would be based upon how long it takes to complete this work. Additional charges may apply if extra material is required.

PRIVATE LINE SERVICES (SPECIAL CIRCUITS)

Increases are proposed in the service connection charges, non-recurring charges and monthly rates for most special circuits, foreign exchange and foreign central office service as well as for private line channels and associated equipment. More detailed information about these items can be found in the proposed tariff sheets.

TOUCH-TONE CALLING SERVICE

Currently there is a charge to change from rotary dial to TOUCH-TONE® service or back again. Ohio Bell is asking to increase the charge for changing to either TOUCH-TONE or rotary dial service. However, the Company is also asking to eliminate the separate service connection charge for TOUCH-TONE on new installations by incorporating it into the basic service and equipment charge a customer pays at the time of installation. The Company is also requesting a 20 percent increase in the recurring monthly charge for TOUCH-TONE service.

LONG DISTANCE CALLS WITHIN OHIO

Ohio Bell is proposing a $4 monthly charge per line to all customers and to decrease prices on direct-dialed long distance calls within Ohio an average of 40 percent. Both of these changes will apply to all customers of other Telephone Companies which concur in Ohio Bell's Message Toll Telephone Service Tariff. The proposed charge would be in addition to the proposed new monthly rates for local exchange service. The combined effect of the reduction in long distance rates and the new $4 charge per customer line will not increase Ohio Bell revenue.

DIRECT INWARD DIALING SERVICE (PBX CUSTOMERS)

Ohio Bell is seeking to restructure the rates for direct inward dialing service for PBX customers to a more usage sensitive basis. The Company is proposing a rate for each group of 20 numbers and an additional rate based on the number of trunks associated with such numbers.

CUSTOMER OPERATING CENTER SERVICE

Ohio Bell is seeking to establish a new service for Telephone Answering Services and Alarm Companies called Customer Operating Center Service. This service would provide a dedicated complement of cable pairs to these businesses and allow them to subscribe to bulk lines instead of having to subscribe to single lines. The service would include a rate for the cable and a charge for each line activated.

MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES

The following items are illustrative of changes in rates and charges for some miscellaneous services. More detailed information about these items can be found in the proposed tariff sheets.

- Increases in exchange related services such as the exchange access portion of Centrex lines, airport lines and exhibition hall lines as well as dormitory stations, joint user service and special recording trunks.

The following are illustrative of services for which the Company is proposing increases of about 20 percent:

- Custom Calling Services
- Non-Published Service
- Additional Directory Listings
- Certain Telephone Answering Services
- Directory Assistance Calls
- Operator Handled Local Coin Calls
- Transfer of Toll Charge Service (also known as Enterprise Service).

The prayer of the Application requests the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to do the following:

(a) Find that the Company's present rates and charges which are proposed to be changed and the regulations and practices affecting the same are unjust, unreasonable and insufficient to yield reasonable compensation for the services rendered;

(b) Find that the rates and charges and regulations and practices which the Company proposes to change are just and reasonable and will provide not more than a fair and reasonable rate of return on the value of the Company's property actually used and useful for the convenience of the public;

(c) Approve the filing of the proposed schedule sheets contained in Schedule E-1 of the Application, modified to reflect such revisions, if any, as may become effective, pursuant to orders of the Commission, during the interim between the filing of the Application and the date upon which the schedule sheets become effective;

(d) Order that the proposed sheets become effective forthwith;

(e) Approve the withdrawal of the schedule sheets which are proposed to be changed contained in Schedule E-2 of the application, modified to reflect such revisions, if any, as may become effective, pursuant to orders of the Commission, during the interim between the filing of the Application and the date upon which said schedule sheets are approved for withdrawal;

(f) Grant such other and further relief to which the Company is reasonably entitled.

The form of this notice has been approved by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.
